

ISCHR Connections

Issue 1

'After the last financial crash, it was CFOs that saved us, this time it will be CHROs'
Chief HR Officer, IBM.

Welcome to the first issue of ISCHR Connections, the regular newsletter for subscribers and members.

The quote above highlights the importance of HR in modern business and especially right now.

ISCHR has been in the planning for more than 4 years, but only now have we decided to make this available to members and grow the global network of school HR professionals, and never has it been more appropriate or needed.

ISCHR Membership:

On 8th April you will be able to join ISCHR. This will give you access to all the resources and training materials as well as the ability to connect with an HR expert or to join on the ISCHR member HR sessions.

ISCHR is all about developing school HR professionals, creating a global network and adding value to schools and all school employees.

Adding value:

ISCHR will add value to any school, and the school HR professionals that support them.

Members will immediately have access to resources such as sample contracts and policies. These are annotated with guidance notes to support their use in different schools and countries.

There will be a set of training and development resources that will engage members to a greater understanding of key HR activities in schools.

And then there is the ability to connect and gain support from an HR expert, experienced in school or the option to join an HR Clinic where members will be able to get advice or discuss a range of topics.

Coming soon:

More resources and training resources, access to the ISCHR Forum, ability to post school HR Jobs and access to the ISCHR school HR diary.
